HOSPITAL PARKING FEES SCRAPPED FOR THOUSANDS OF PATIENTS AND STAFF

Free parking will be introduced for thousands of patients and staff at Ormskirk and Southport hospitals

Report by Henry James

Charges to be abolished for many at Southport and Ormskirk sites

THOUSANDS of patients and visitors to Southport and Ormkskirk hospital sites are in line to benefit from free parking.

From April 2020, all hospital trusts in England, including Southport and Ormskirk, will be expected to provide free car parking to groups that may be frequent hospital visitors, or those 'disproportionately' impacted by daily or hourly charges for parking.

The people included in the proposed changes are:

- blue badge holders
- frequent outpatients who have to attend regular appointments to manage long-term conditions
- Free parking will also be offered at specific times of day to certain groups, including: parents of sick children staying in hospital overnight; hospital staff working night shifts

While it is up to individual trusts to make their own car parking arrangements, health chiefs at Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust this week told the Champion that they will make the 'appropriate arrangements' on parking concessions once they have official notification from the Government.

NHS hospital car parking fees were abolished in Scotland and Wales in 2008 but in England people have had to continue paying what many critics have called a 'tax on the sick'.

The government says the change will make the NHS as accessible as possible for those who need it most and have little choice but to travel by car. The government also points out many hospitals ignored guidance on parking charges issued in 2015 and are still charging the protected groups.

At Southport and Ormskirk Hospitals, patients and visitors currently receive free parking for 0 to 20 minutes stay but thereafter are charged - 20 minutes to one hour £3; one to two hours £3.50; two to three hours £4; three to four hours £4.50; four to six hours £5.50; more than six hours £6.50.

'Greatest need'

Locally, during the financial year 2018/19, Ormskirk Hospital made £705,705 from car parking charges and Southport Hospital £959,997, which is a combined total of £1,665,702. This is an increase on the previous year when the figure was £1,524,408.

Health Secretary Matt Hancock said: "From April, across the country those with the greatest need - such as disabled people, parents staying overnight with sick children in hospital, and NHS staff working nightshifts - will no longer have to pay for parking."

At Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust, Therese Patten, deputy chief executive, said: "The Trust will make appropriate arrangements once we have official notification of the Government's announcement on parking concessions.

"We already offer discounts for frequent visitors and support for people on low incomes."

The government has said that no NHS trust will be left with less money because of the change.

Last year, hospital trusts in England made more than £254m from car parking charges, and a further £1.5m from parking fines, according to data from Freedom of Information requests.

NHS Providers, which represents health managers, has also defended parking charges, saying fees can be used to ensure parking facilities are maintained, lit well, and secure, with any surplus reinvested back into wider services for patients.

Council leader excited for 2020 plans

Report by Kenny Parker

THE leader of West Lancs council has thanked council staff for their work over the past year and spoken of exciting plans in store for the borough in 2020.

Wishing the people of West Lancs a very happy festive period and a 'peaceful New Year,' Councillor Ian Moran asked for residents to spare a thought for those who might 'need a helping hand' over the period.

He said: "While this is a joyful time for many of us, I would ask people in West Lancashire to spare a thought for those who may need a helping hand over the festive period.

"The year 2019 has been an important year for the council as we have implemented a new operating model and I would like to thank council staff for their professionalism and continued hard work for the people of the borough.

"This year has seen the completion of two great housing schemes, one at Walmsley Drive, Ormskirk and Beechtrees in Skelmersdale. The Walmsley Drive scheme was shortlisted for a national award, and the Beechtrees homes really enhanced the appearance of the area.

"We have also made significant progress on our proposals for new leisure and wellbeing hubs in Ormskirk and Skelmersdale. Work will continue on these projects throughout 2020.

"Each year the council organises major events for local people to enjoy and to bring people into the borough. In 2019 the Green Fayre, Ormskirk MotorFest and the Ormskirk Christmas of Tales and Festive Lights Switch On were a huge success with the MotorFest in particular attracting record crowds.

"With the new year about to begin, I am really excited about the beginning of the new town centre for Skelmersdale, with building work scheduled to start on site in January. This is an incredibly important project, not just for Skelmersdale but the whole of West Lancashire.

"The year 2020 also sees a number of key developments moving ahead in Ormskirk town centre, including upgrading the pedestrianised area of Moor Street, which will allow for an extension of the historic twice weekly market.

"There is also the development and re-awakening of Wheatsheaf Walk as a public square, which vastly improves an important link between one of the main carparks and the town centre. This will positively impact the surrounding retailers, as well as the overall aesthetics of the town.

"These are just some of the exciting things we have to look forward to in the future as the council continues to be ambitious for the borough, its people, businesses and places and continues to strive towards achieving the goals in the Council Plan."

Business owners learn protection techniques for a range of crimes

MORE than 170 people from the business community attended a conference hosted by Lancashire Constabulary on how to protect against a range of crimes from shoplifting to modern slavery.

Supported by the National Business Crime Centre, the Crime Prevention Conference, held recently in Blackburn, brought together speakers from a range of backgrounds including cyber-crime, modern slavery, counter terrorism and violence against retailers.

Michael Grime, Business Crime Coordinator for Lancashire Constabulary said: "Leading up to the busiest time of year for retailers, it was very important that we came together to discuss ways in which businesses can reduce the risks of things going wrong, whether its reducing the impact of shoplifting or how to spot cybercrime tactics criminals use.

"The event gave delegates the opportunity to hear from industry experts on topics use as cyber-crime, modern slavery, counter terrorism and violence against retailers and gain advice on the simple steps they can take to reduce their risks of being targeted by criminals."

The Poundbakery Store on Burscough St, Ormskirk, which has now closed.

Poundbakery in town one of 11 to shut

THE Ormskirk branch of Poundbakery has closed.

The firm that owned Poundbakery - Sayers - is now controlled by a newly-formed company Sayers and Poundbakery Ltd. Though 1,400 jobs have been saved by the buy-out, 100 staff have been made redundant by the closures.

The saved shops will continue to be branded as Sayers the Bakers and Poundbakery.

Southport's Chapel Street store is among those that remain open. However, the shutters have come down on the Ormskirk store on Burscough Street and Southport's Lord Street store.

Prior to administration, the Bolton-based parent firm, Sayers The Bakers Ltd, had a turnover of £50m. The new company will operate the main bakery and distribution centre in the town as well as the majority of its 167 Sayers, Poundbakery and Poundcafe stores across northern England, North Wales, Yorkshire and the Midlands.

The majority of shops throughout the UK will continue to operate as previous. The company said that while all efforts have been made to offer ongoing employment to as many people as possible affected by the closures, and where possible they were offered the opportunity to work in other nearby locations unaffected by closure, the transaction has resulted in a number of redundancies.

Police appeal after delivery driver is robbed by men with gun and iron bar

POLICE are appealing for information after a delivery driver was robbed by men believed to be wielding a gun and metal bar in Appley Bridge.

Lancashire Police say they were called at 6.44pm on Sunday, December 15 to reports that a takeaway delivery driver had been threatened by two men on Finch Lane. They were holding weapons – one believed to be a gun and the other, an iron bar.

After the victim was made to get out of his vehicle, a blue Ford Fiesta, he was approached by another man in a black Saab Estate who took a small amount of money from his hand.

The Saab then drove off, with the two offenders leaving in the victim's car.

The victim was not hurt and the Fiesta was later found by police in a car park in nearby Shevington.

DC Danny Gardner of Ormskirk Police said: "We would appeal to anyone who saw anything suspicious to get in touch.

"We are particularly keen to know if anyone has seen the two vehicles described, between 6.44pm and 7.10pm on Sunday, December 15. If you have any information at all, no matter how small, please pick up the phone."

Anyone with information should call 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Burscough bulk handling company closes with loss of 92 jobs

Universal Bulk Handling International on Orrell Lane, Burscough which has gone into administration.

A LONG standing and respected employer in Burscough has gone into administration with the loss of 92 jobs.

Report by Kenny Parker

Universal Bulk Handlers International, based on Orrell Lane, made container tanks for the worldwide market. It was set up in the 1958 and became a cooperative in 1999.

While it is hoped that a buyer can be found for the company the administrators confirmed the majority of staff at UBH have been laid off.

Administrators Graywoods said in a statement "Burscough company UBH International LTD, the manufacturer of container tanks for national and international customers, has gone into administration.

"Ryan Holdsworth and Adrian Graham, of Sheffield-based insolvency practitioners Graywoods, were appointed joint administrators of the company on December 17.

"A total of 92 employees were made redundant on December 17, though some staff were retained to assist the administrators with a view to selling the business.

"Walker Singleton, agents for the joint administrators, are marketing for sale the business as a whole and all enquiries should be sent to: Walker Singleton on 0113 848 0000 and leeds@walkersingleton.co.uk"

The closure of the company so close to Christmas has shocked and saddened the local community.

Burscough West Borough Councillor Andy Pritchard said: "This is a sad loss for Burscough. It's been a solid employer for generations of local families. I hope that those who have lost their jobs can find new employment soon."

His feelings were echoed by local historian Michael Dawson who said it was a "great shame" and "very sad times".

Queen's Award

The company was bought out by a number of staff after previously going into liquidation in the 90s with the loss of 270 jobs. After winning the Queens Award for Export in 1996 it was found that the company's financial director at the time, with the knowledge of the managing director, had been found to have been falsifying the accounts and fraudulently trading. They had claimed the company was running at a £2.5m profit when in reality it was £11m in deficit.

The two directors were jailed in 2003.

In recent times it is believed that the company has struggled to compete with manufacturers from around the globe.

Phil Davey, the father of one of the workers laid off said that UBH treated its staff well. He added: "Alex had worked at UBH for almost 12 months. They had a really good working conditions. UBH looked after him when he had an accident at work and were going to send him on a coded welding course to London.

"They had already tested him to a coded level for which he had a certificate. So to me this showed they cared for their employees. Such a shame they have closed, but it seems they were competing against the likes of the Chinese, so the market became difficult."

University opens new International Centre on Racism

Report by Henry James

THE launch of a new International Centre on Racism (ICR) has been described as coming at a "critical moment" when race is at the forefront of public debate.

Edge Hill University's new ICR has been set up to deliver advanced research on global questions concerning racism, building on the university's "long history of anti-racism".

Professor James Renton, director of the new centre, explained his ambition was to "lead concrete work" on an international level that dissects all racisms, including anti-semitism.

Previously, most initiatives have focused on particular racisms or individual countries.

He said: "This centre really puts Edge Hill on the map in the UK and internationally at a time when racism studies are at a critical moment.

"It's a sad fact that the vast majority of people I speak to - and that's people outside of academia - have experienced or witnessed racism.

"People are aware that racism needs to be at the top of the political and social agenda."

Edge Hill has an extensive history of racism studies; during the 60s and 70s the university's then Principal, PKC Millins, was at the forefront of national efforts to use education as a means of improving race relations.

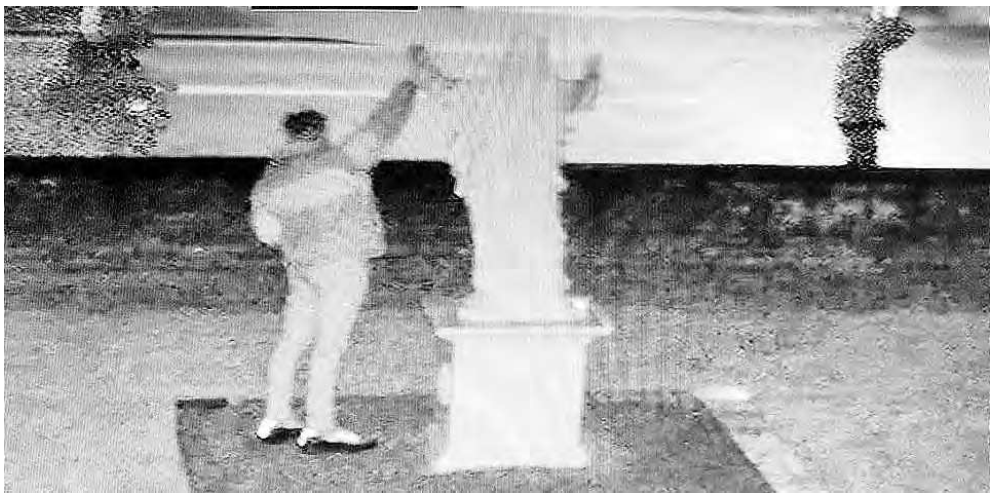
Guest speakers and attendees at the International Centre on Racism's inaugural event

As late as the 1990s, the university was the only UK institution to deliver an undergraduate degree in race and ethnic relations.

Deputy-director, Dr Jenny Barrett, added: "The ICR is important because it will address all racisms, including anti-semitism, which is often dealt with separately, and will tackle big, global questions."

The centre is an official partner with MONITOR Global Intelligence on Racism, the high-profile multimedia magazine dedicated to bringing expertise on racism to public debate, which is based at the European University Institute in Italy.

The ICR is supported by a global team of experts in Europe, North America and Australia.



The CCTV image released by police in its appeal to find males who damaged statue.

Vandals cause £500 worth of damage to statue of Jesus

Report by Kenny Parker

POLICE are appealing for information after a statue of Jesus outside a Tarleton church was damaged late on Christmas Eve.

Ormskirk and Burscough Police posted the appeal on social media after two males were seen on CCTV climbing the statue belonging to Our Lady Help of Christians Catholic Church, on Hesketh Lane, leading to one of the statue's hand being broken off.

The police post said: "On Christmas Eve at around 11.50pm four males were walking along Hesketh Lane towards Hesketh Bank. Two of the males approached the statue of Jesus at Our Lady Help of Christians Church.

"One male climbed behind the statue whilst the other swung on his right hand causing it to break, that will cost £500 to repair. If anyone has any information about the identity of these males or any further CCTV footage of them walking along Hesketh Lane please email 7176@lancashire.pnn.police.uk or tel 101 and quote log number LC-20191226-0917."

Supermarket to be built despite loss of 'historic building'

PLANS for a new Aldi supermarket and offices in Tarleton have been recommended for approval by the council - despite claims it will lead to the loss of a building with "historic interest".

An application on behalf of German supermarket giant and GBA Services Ltd is to demolish the now derelict Bay Leaf restaurant, on Liverpool Road, south of Tarleton village, and build a retail space, a car park and two storey offices.

GBA Services Ltd, which will occupy the office space, is a local company currently operating from Moss Lane in Tarleton.

West Lancashire Heritage has objected to the proposal and claim parts of the Bay Leaf restaurant, formerly the Rams Head Inn, date back to the 17th Century.

The building is included in West Lancs council's list of buildings of local architectural or historic interest and entered on Historic England's Pastscape online resource as a 'Post Medieval Inn'.

Objecting to the plans, West Lancashire Conservation Area Advisory Panel said that rather than be demolished the applicants should renovate and re-use the historic building instead.

However, a heritage statement provided to the planning committee at West Lancashire Council, which is due to consider the planning application at a meeting on Thursday January 9, says that losing the building would be of "minor relevance".

The Bay Leaf restaurant site, which Aldi and GBA Services want to redevelop

A report published by the council ahead of the meeting has recommended it for approval.

The council has received more than 240 representations from "neighbours and interested parties" both for and against the proposals including an objection from the Co-operative Group, which has a food store in Tarleton.

Other objections include complaints of encroachment onto Green Belt and an increase in traffic.

However, those in favour of the development say it will tidy the site, provide an increased choice for retail customers and provide jobs in the area.

In a council report to the planning committee, it states that while the development would have an impact on the "openness" of the Green Belt and result in the loss of a heritage asset, the harm is outweighed by the environmental, social and economic benefits.

Animal charity launches its own lottery to raise funds

WOODLANDS Animal Sanctuary has launched its own lottery to help raise money.

Run in conjunction with Unity Lottery, supporters of Woodlands can take part in the lottery from £1 per week, payable monthly by direct debit or by cheque for a minimum of 13 weeks at a time, with "at least" 50p in every point going to the cause. The draw will made every Friday and the top prize is £25,000.

Unity Lottery, which says it was designed to give good causes the chance to raise money through their own weekly lottery says that the remaining 50p in every pound is used to provide prizes and cover administration.

"This means that your chosen cause can run their own fundraising lottery with no ongoing cost to them," it says.

A spokesperson for Woodlands, which is located at Sandy Lane, Holmeswood, said: "The team at Woodlands are very excited about this opportunity and are looking forwards to hearing winners' stories as it is lovely for us to be able to give something back to our supporters who provide the charity with so much.

"By signing up, you will be a part of providing the charity with a regular, reliable income, which is so helpful to the team as it allows us to plan and budget our finances much more easily.

"The whole team at Woodlands would like to wish you the very best of luck!"

Pupils at St Francis of Assisi Catholic Primary School with the blanket they knitted for Bai Chan

Primary school knitters make blanket for rescued Northern Thailand elephant Bai Chan RESCUED elephants in Northern Thailand need blankets to keep warm, as it gets cold in the mountainous regions.

To help these elephants, the knitting group at St Francis of Assisi Catholic Primary School in Skelmersdale, along with staff and the wider community, joined together to create a blanket for them.

This has been donated to the Elephant Nature Park in Chiang Mai, Northern Thailand, and has been given to Bai Chan; at more than 70 years old, she is one of the older elephants at the park.

She was rescued from the trekking industry where she was forced to walk and carry tourists around.

Bai Chan loves her new blanket and has been proudly walking round the park to show it off!

A spokesperson for St Francis of Assisi school said: "There are more elephants in need of blankets so we will be continuing to collect squares.

"If anyone would like to donate knitted or crocheted squares we are looking for them to be 20cm or 30cm square."

Sandwich shop is toast of the town after scooping window display award!

Report by Kenny Parker

BURSCOUGH youngsters picked a newly opened sandwich bar as the winner of the town's best Christmas window scene.

Young Voices of Burscough (YVOB) is a group set up by Burscough Parish Council to help provide a platform for young people's opinions in the town.

Members braved wet weather to visit each of the festive displays that businesses had to offer.

While being treated to chocolate cake and hot chocolate courtesy of the Teddy Bear Cafe, Liverpool Road North, the youngsters decided that Jen's Sandwich Bar should be crowned the winner.

The sandwich bar, on Liverpool Road South, opened two months ago and is owned by local resident Jennifer Snow.

She previously worked in administration for Lordsgate Primary School in Burscough but, believing the town really needed a sandwich bar after the Graham family retired from their grocery business in March of last year, she took the plunge to set up her own business.

Her prize for best window display was £100 and she was presented with a shield by YVOB member and Burscough Priory Academy student Ellie.

"I am over the moon, I've only been open since October so it's really lovely," Jennifer said.

Parish clerk Jackie Maguire said: "There was stiff competition again this year with the runner up spot going to The Bloom Room and third place went to Esquire Barbers.

"Congratulations to all who took part and help to keep Burscough a lovely place to live.

"Young Voices Of Burscough have an exciting year planned for 2020 and if you would like to attend the meetings please join us. The group is open to any young person between the age of 12 and 19 years who has an opinion regarding the area of Burscough."

For more information contact Jackie on 01704 894914.

Founder of Mencap social group awarded British Empire Medal

Bill Carter.

THE founder of a local group which provides activities and a social club for adults with learning disabilities has been honoured with a British Empire Medal in the Queen's New Year Honours.

William Carter, from Aughton and chairman of Lydiate Mencap and former chairman of South Sefton Mencap, is modest about the accolade, however, saying that the award is for all the volunteers at the group as it is a team effort.

A former director at Maghull's Ashworth Hospital, Bill was a mental health officer, specialising in learning disabilities.

He has been involved with Mencap on a voluntary basis since he retired more than 20 years ago.

For most of that time he has been involved with South Sefton Mencap, based in Crosby, but following that group's merger with Liverpool Mencap in 2018 he set up Lydiate Mencap, following a demand for its services.

Initially meeting at Lydiate Parish Hall but now at the Mersey Motor Boat Club, at Pilling Lane, the group provides a range of activities every Tuesday 10am to 3pm.

Then at the same venue every Wednesday night (7pm to 10pm), the club holds a social night, with a resident DJ, which is regularly attended by more than 45 adults.

The British Empire Medal was awarded for "services to disabled and vulnerable people".

Bill said: "I am very pleased about it obviously but it is a team thing, as far as I am concerned. All the volunteers that work at Lydiate Mencap, and in the past at South Sefton Mencap – it was the same people – we all work together. So, as far as I am concerned, it's an accolade for them as well."

Lydiate Mencap has recently become affiliated with Royal Mencap Society and is currently in the process of applying for charitable status.

Bill adds that while the group has had success with fundraising since it was established as a charity, this will help them progress their plans for the group.

Community groups urged to apply for funding from police

LANCASHIRE'S Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw has called on more community groups to apply for a slice of funding.

Since launching in 2013, the Community Action Fund has seen more than £500,000 invested into projects across Lancashire, helping groups tackle local concerns and deliver the Commissioner's key priorities.

In 2019/20, £150,000 is available for community groups to bid for funding to deliver projects that tackle crime and reoffending, build safe, confident communities and support vulnerable people and victims of crime in the county.

From offering diversionary activity which help ensure people do not get involved in criminal activity such as anti-social behaviour, protecting vulnerable people and helping to ensure they don't become victims of crime and generally strengthening communities across Lancashire by bringing people together, there are a wide range of projects which benefit.

Earlier in 2019 the fund relaunched, solely utilising the proceeds of crime which have been removed from criminals and are now being reinvested back into the community.

The Commissioner said: "It's striking that since the Community Action Fund launched, over half a million pounds has been provided to local groups who are making our county a better place to live, work and visit.

Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw.

"They deliver great value for money for relatively small investment, help me achieve the priorities in my Police and Crime Plan and ultimately, make the county safer.

"By utilising the proceeds of crime and giving this money back to the communities that are affected by criminal behaviour, it means we are able to invest into the people of Lancashire and do something positive with this money."

Water bills set to be reduced for households

WATER bills for West Lancashire residents will be cut after firms were ordered to reduce the average customer bill by £50 over the next five years.

Regulator Ofwat has placed tougher restrictions on water companies in England and Wales, meaning local households could save some money on their bills.

Water firms in England and Wales are facing the toughest restrictions on investor payouts since privatisation 30 years ago, the regulator has said.

Ofwat is also forcing firms to invest billions of pounds to improve their performance and reduce leaks.

The chief executive of the regulator, Rachel Fletcher, said: "We're firing the starting gun on the transformation of the water industry backed by a major investment programme to deliver new, improved services for customers and the environment and resilience for generations to come.

"Now water companies need to crack on, turn this into a reality and transform their performance for everyone."

A review of water companies' performance carried out in January found only three out of 17 water firms in England and Wales were of an acceptable standard.

Ofwat's five-year plan, which comes into effect on 1 April 2020, will enforce a tougher stance on the return on capital - a measure of the returns that can be paid to investors - in part because of lower interest rates which makes it cheaper for companies to borrow to invest.

There are also plans to cut down on leaks, to help two million more customers in need with support and to spend £1 billion to protect communities at risk of flooding.

Ofwat also outlined plans to cut pollution into rivers and streams by almost a third and provide £450 million to explore new water resources.

Trust welcomes new app which helps hospitals locate bank staff

Report by Kenny Parker

Southport Hospital.

Ormskirk Hospital.

SOUTHPORT and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust has engaged the help of a technology company to help with staffing issues, making it less reliant, it claims, on costly locum agencies.

The trust has partnered with Patchwork Health which has developed an app enabling doctors to directly access bank shift vacancies.

Patchwork Health, set up in 2016 by NHS doctors Anas Nader and Jing Ouyang, says that by connecting vacant shifts with healthcare workers. it saves the health service 'millions' while improving the experience for their workers, and ultimately, their patients - making sure a doctor is there when you need one most'.

The company's technology is being used by 12 trusts - including our own - in the UK and 10,000 medical staff.

Jennifer Pennifold, head of resourcing at Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust, said: "Ensuring we are creating the best working environment for our clinicians is one of our top priorities.

"We're therefore excited to be partnering with Patchwork to introduce a more robust and cost effective approach to temporary staffing."

Dr Nader, CEO of Patchwork Health, added: "We're delighted to be partnering with Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust. They share our vision when it comes to improving and modernising NHS clinical staffing. We will be working closely with them to drive up bank fill rates, ensure safe staffing on wards, reduce spend on locum agencies, and offer a better work-life balance to all their clinicians.

"Having lived these problems first hand, we know why innovative solutions are needed to tackle some of the entrenched issues around flexible working in healthcare."

A spokesperson for the trust added that the technology was introduced at the beginning of December and while agency staff have still been needed, it has been very successful.

Saying that the priority at the moment is making sure that slots in the hospitals' rotas are better filled, the spokesperson said the trust wasn't able to say how much the app was saving at present.

He added that a future aim was for doctors at other local trusts to be able to access the system and opt in for vacant shifts.

Council wants locals to be prepared in case of flooding

WEST Lancs Council wants locals to check its website to make sure they are prepared in the event of local flooding in case of wet weather in January.

Reminding residents that they are responsible for protecting their home, irrespective of whether they are owners or tenant, council chiefs say the webpage www.westlancs.gov.uk/flooding can help them decide what steps to take, where they can get help with flood prevention equipment and what to do if flooding occurs.

The North West Regional Flood and Coastal Committee also provides useful information on their flood hub, which can be accessed via www.thefloodhub.co.uk.

If severe weather does hit West Lancashire the council will be using its webpage www.westlancs.gov.uk/winter and social media to tell everyone if its services are affected.

The 'blue light' emergency services also use social media, and www.westlancs.gov.uk/winter can be used to find information on Lancashire County Council services such as highways, gritting and school closures.

The deadline is approaching for primary school applications

Deadline is approaching to apply for primary school places

WEST Lancashire parents are being reminded of a deadline to apply for primary school places in 2020.

The closing date for applications is Wednesday, January 15, and the quickest and easiest way to apply is online via the county council's website.

Parents need to submit an application form for all children starting school, even if the child already has an older brother or sister at their preferred school.

County Councillor Phillippa Williamson, cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "I urge parents to remember to apply online for a primary school place for their child.

"If a family already has a child at a school, they must still apply for a place for their younger child.

"And if they have twins, they'll need to fill in two application forms.

"We know how important it is for parents to get the right school for their child, so we're encouraging them to apply on time to give themselves the best chance.

"It is important that parents include at least one of their local schools in their preferences.

"The deadline for applications for primary school places is January 15 2020."

Children start primary school in the September after their fourth birthday.

For more information, visit www.lancashire.gov.uk/schools

Parents can also call on 0300 123 6707.

Parents whose children attend Lancashire primary schools or academies, but live in another local authority area, should apply via the local authority where they live.

Nursing chief welcomes new £5,000 grants for students

Report by Kenny Parker

PLANS to give nursing students annual grants of at least £5,000 from next year has been welcomed by Edge Hill University.

The cash incentive is part of a government drive to increase the number of nurses over the next five years.

Students studying specialist subjects or requiring additional child support will be able to access further grants of up to £3,000 per year.

Applications for student nurse places in England have fallen since 2016 when previous bursaries were scrapped in favour of loans.

Edge Hill University says it is hoped that the new financial offer will encourage more people to train to become a nurse.

The university's Deputy Director of Nursing Dr Kathryn Drury, said: "This funding is important as it means students will be assisted to attend those shifts on placements that are out of the usual public transport timetables, the shifts overnight or the shifts when they need extra childcare; increased living costs that are not currently recognised in generic student finance systems."

From September 2020 nursing students will receive an annual payment of at least £5,000, with some expected to receive £8,000 if, for instance, they specialise in some hard to recruit areas of nursing such as mental health or require additional childcare allowance, on top of the £1,000 already on offer

With further information to be released in the new year, the government has ensured the funding does not have to be repaid and students will still be able to access funding for tuition and maintenance. The funding will be given to all new and continuing degree-level nursing, midwifery and many allied health students from September 2020.

The 'allied health' professions comprise 14 distinct occupations including: art therapists, dietitians, occupational therapists, paramedics, and physiotherapists, Edge Hill University is aiming to recruit 555 new students nurses next year.

Dr Drury added: "We're delighted to see this increased support for our nurses and look forward welcoming potential students who may have felt that they couldn't before committing to the profession previously."

The deadline for university applications (managed by UCAS) is January 15,

Health and Social Care Secretary Matt Hancock said: "We are embarking on the biggest nursing recruitment drive in decades, backed by a new universal support package."

Help is at hand for victims of domestic abuse

THE festive and New Year period should be a happy time for all, but for anyone living with domestic abuse, the risks increase over this time.

If you think you, or someone you know is suffering from abuse, help is at hand.

Anyone who is in immediate danger should dial 999 and ask for the emergency services.

In West Lancashire, for any residents experiencing domestic abuse, help is available locally.

The Liberty Centre provides a wealth of services for all victims of domestic abuse and abuse.

They offer emergency accommodation to women, men and children, counselling and support for anyone affected by domestic abuse.

They can be contacted on their free confidential 24-hour helpline number 0808 100 3062 or on 01695 50600.

Heidi McDougall, West Lancashire Community Safety Partnership chairperson, added: "People can feel ashamed and scared talking about domestic abuse.

"We also urge witnesses of such violence not to be a bystander, come forward and speak out for those that are unable to report any problems to the Police."

More information is available at www.thelibertycentre.org.uk or on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram.

Lancashire Victim Services offers emotional support, information and practical help to victims and witnesses in West Lancashire as well as across the county.

Anyone who needs support can call 0300 323 085, email info@lancashirevictimservices.org or visit www.lancashirevictimservices.org.

The West Lancashire Borough Council website www.westlancs.gov.uk/domesticviolence has more details about services available to people suffering domestic violence and gives details of Don't Be A Bystander a flagship campaign against Domestic Abuse launched in 2017.

Its central role is to encourage witnesses of domestic abuse to come forward to the police or charities such as the Liberty Centre.

Pupils showcase talents for care home residents

PUPILS from Ormskirk School and Sixth Form College showcased their musical talents at a party arranged for the residents of local care homes.

Guests from Abbey Wood Lodge and Stocks Hall Care Homes in Ormskirk were treated to an afternoon tea of sandwiches and cakes and a variety of entertainment.

Pupils recited poems, some sang solo, while the school's 'Young Voices' choir performed a range of magical musical ensembles.

Pam Anderton, Deputy Director of Sixth Form, said: "The school is very proud of all students involved, including the group of 6th form students who helped organise the event, who were amazing."

Have our posties not seen Blue Planet?

If anyone else noticed their local postman/woman leaving a trail of elastic bands behind them on the pavement, then I trust they witheld any Christmas tip they were intending to give them this year?

I took the trouble to speak to a postman on Grimshaw Lane and he said it didn't matter (they were discarded) because they are biodegradable!

Tell that to the birds and the wildlife in our watercourses. Have they not seen Blue Planet?

This is a relatively new problem so can I call upon the Post Office to go back to their previous system and stop littering our pavements with elastic bands.

Until then is it too much to ask for posties to pocket them for the Post Office or themselves to re-use?

I've picked up so many, I confidently predict I shan't need to buy any until 2025!

Why not publish lists of GPs with appointments?

Thanks for publishing a reminder that GPs have weekend and evening appointments.

Nice to know they can be accessed by phone in the same way as other appointments

That will be a 'no' then. I have never in the past ten years accessed an appointment by phone. I have always had a 'Sorry, no appointments left today, try again tomorrow' reply with the same response the next day and the next. Attempts online are just as useless.

I have only ever managed to get an appointment by going to the surgery, finding out when the list for three weeks time opens and returning to the surgery at exactly the time the list opens and making an appointment there and then at the surgery

If the health service wants to do something useful it should publish lists of GPs, if any, who have appointments on a weekly basis and allow anyone regardless of which doctor they are registered with to make an appointment.

Leave camp did roar, and us Remainers have to accept it

In response to 'Mr Beleaver's' letter and his skewed idea of democracy, as far as I am aware, this is still a free country (for now anyway) and freedom to protest has always been one of the most valued rights in any democratic society.

For example back in the 1990's people took part in a march on London protesting against the hated Poll Tax. This brought about change and killed off this dreaded Conservative Policy.

In October, this year, I am proud to say that I was 'One in a Million' who took part in the march for a People's Vote on leaving the EU.

This was a peaceful demonstration which took place with no arrests.

However, we did encounter a small group of Leavers, shouting abuse at us, calling us traitors (and worse) until the police, who did a fantastic job, in managing such numbers on that day, moved these people on.

Also the comments about being the 'Silent majority' - over the past three years the Leave camp have been far from silent in airing their views.

So yes, Mr Beleaver the Leave camp did 'roar', we heard, and us Remainers have to accept that, but I am no traitor to the UK, Mr Beleaver.

However, I am deeply ashamed of the hateful and intolerant society we have become since the referendum, which in my opinion should never have been called in the first place.

'One in a Million',
Skelmersdale

The apartments have been designed with later life in mind and every detail, from the height of the door handles to the layout of the bathroom has been considered to make everyday life safer, simpler and more comfortable for homeowners.

Each of the private apartments will include generous living areas and contemporary fitted kitchens with integrated appliances. Many have stylish en-suite shower rooms and separate bathrooms, and for that all-important outside space, most apartments feature a walk on balcony or patio area, overlooking the beautifully landscaped gardens.

PEACE OF MIND

Adlington's real point of difference is being able to offer round the clock, 24-hour on-site support, and tailored care should it ever be needed, in the future. By offering optional and flexible care, homeowners and their families have peace of mind, which is cited as one of the key reasons why so many people choose to invest in an Adlington apartment.

Security is of paramount importance and a sophisticated emergency call system operates in each apartment and throughout all the communal areas and gardens, as well as a security video entry so you only allow access to people you know and trust.

MOVING MADE EASY

They even throw-in a unique, complimentary 8-hour Handyman service to help you achieve the best look for your new apartment.

AWARD-WINNING EXPERTISE

Adlington recently picked up the much-coveted WhatHouse? Silver Award for Best Retirement Development in 2019 for their Macclesfield development in Cheshire. Alexandra Johnson, Adlington Sales and Marketing Director comments:

"Adlington's vision is to empower our older generation to live a long, happy and healthy life. By creating spacious homes in safe and secure environments with active communities - we are responding to the changing needs of retirees and helping individuals live an independent life."

Drink drivers warned they could be caught out on CCTV cameras

Report by Henry James

DRINK drivers are being warned they could be caught on CCTV.

In 2018/19 the CCTV Unit was involved in dealing with 5,509 incidents, and between November 2018 and October 2019 operators either supported the police or directly observed 88 incidents involving suspected drunk drivers.

The council is also urging residents to remember that excess alcohol and/or the use of drugs can increase the likelihood of committing a crime or becoming a victim of crime.

Councillor Kevin Wright, portfolio holder for health and community safety at West Lancashire Council said: "Driving under the influence of alcohol is a crime and is extremely dangerous. Please leave your car at home this Christmas."

There are currently 106 public open space cameras across the borough, including Ormskirk town centre and other various key locations.

CCTV operators are able to keep in close contact with local businesses and the police through the Shopwatch radio scheme and they can alert officers to any incident quickly.

A car caught on CCTV

Heidi McDougall, West Lancashire Community Safety Partnership chairperson added: "With Christmas around the corner we want people to feel safe when they are shopping or enjoying an evening out.

"We will be working closely with our partners over the festive period to ensure a happy Christmas is had by all and that people feel safe."

Businesses to work together for 'benefit of community'

MUIR Group Housing Association and West Lancs Ark CIC organised a Networking Day at Tanhouse Community Centre on for organisations to get together and promote working together for the benefit of the local community.

At the event there was information on the following: support and advice on setting up your own business; healthy eating advice; mental health services; getting back into employment support; life coaches; benefit, money and budget advice; help to quit smoking; drug and alcohol addiction support.

There was a free raffle too with the chance to win a Christmas hamper.

A spokesperson for West Lancs Ark CIC said: "Thank you to everyone who attended, hopefully we can do it again."

Canada-based sports coach from Skelmersdale graduates with Masters

Report by Henry James

Toronto Wolfpack's Ashton Sims and Eddie Fashioni

EDDIE Fashioni left his Skelmersdale home to pursue a career in the professional rugby league and is now Toronto Wolfpack's First Team Sport Scientist.

After beginning a career in personal training and football coaching, the 29-year-old hadn't considered studying at university but, after returning from the United States at the age of 23, Eddie realised he wanted to perfect his craft.

He explained: "Graduating with a Masters is a relief and actually a bit of a shock for me; it's something I never imagined I would achieve.

"The idea of my Masters project came about when working with the Wolfpack and bouncing ideas off Rick Page, my third-year dissertation supervisor. So, to be in this position now is more than I ever expected of myself, but I am very proud."

Eddie was unable to return to Ormskirk for the graduation ceremony but returning to Edge Hill to complete his Masters was a no-brainer after graduating with a first-class BSc Sports and Exercise Science degree in 2018, having completed a Biology diploma in 2014.

During his undergraduate study – while working in the Edge Hill Sport fitness centre - he completed a placement and extra voluntary work at Leigh Centurions RLFC in the Super League and Fleetwood Town FC Academy.

Having played rugby for 15 years, since the age of 11, at both Orrell RUFC and Southport RUFC, Eddie's practical knowledge of the game has helped him in pursuing his career and coaching athletes.

After winning back-to-back league titles and promotion to the Super League with the Wolfpack, he now has a new role as the Head Fitness Coach at Toronto High Park Football Club.

He is also the Head Technical Coach for the U17 regional boys' team and U14 girls' team, fulfilling both his passion for fitness and football.

Looking to the future, he says he's always open to new opportunities in competitive and elite sports, no matter where that takes him.

"I'm very happy in my current role but I'm also always keeping one eye on my next step; if I could find the right position in a college or university setting here in North America, then I think that might be the perfect fit for me."

Eddie's latest research on 'the effectiveness of a practical half-time re-warm-up strategy on performance and the physical response to soccer-specific activity', was recently published in the Journal of Sports Sciences.

Support for Ormskirk Street Pastors

LANCASHIRE'S Police and Crime Commissioner has donated £2,000 to Ormskirk Street Patsors and praised their work, along with four other organisations in the county, for helping make Lancashire's streets safer.

A total of £25,000 was allocated to support the work of street pastors, street angels and similar organisations in Lancashire.

Preston and South Ribble Street Pastors received £10,000, Blackpool & Fylde Street Angels £7,000, Chorley Street Pastors £4,000, and both Lancaster Street Pastors and Ormskirk Street Pastors were given £2,000 respectively.

Members of these groups are trained volunteers who usually patrol the streets of their community on a Friday and Saturday night, supporting the homeless and other vulnerable people whilst also offering assistance to night-time revellers and preventing violent incidents getting out of control.

Funding is being used by the groups to help them train and equip new volunteers, upskill current volunteers and for resources such as drinks and food to give out to vulnerable people.

Lancashire's PCC Clive Grunshaw said: "I'm delighted to be able to support the vital work that continues to be done to keep our streets safe.

"They provide support to vulnerable people, which is one of the key priorities in my Police and Crime Plan, whilst also providing a rewarding opportunity for those who want to give back to their community through volunteering."

Golfers donate £5,498 to 'life-saving' care unit

Report by Henry James

THE LIFE-SAVING work of critical care staff at Southport and Formby District General Hospital was recognised with a £5,498 donation from members of Southport and Ainsdale Golf Club.

Ladies' captain Linda France fell ill shortly after arriving on holiday in Marbella, Spain, in 2013.

At first, she thought it was food poisoning but as her condition worsened, she was soon flown home - where doctors struggled to identify the cause of her illness.

She was finally admitted to the Critical Care Unit at Southport Hospital after a tiny tear was found in her gut, the effect of which was poisoning her body. Now very poorly, Linda's family was told to expect the worst and she was put in an induced coma in an attempt to save her life. It lasted 81 days.

Thanks to what doctors told her was her 'mental strength' and the brilliant care of staff, Linda was nursed back to health and now plays golf two or three times a week.

This year, as Ladies' Club Captain, she teamed up with the Men's Captain, Peter Darlington, to raise funds for the Critical Care Unit on their respective charity days.

Linda said: "I wouldn't be here without the Critical Care Team and I thought this was a good way of saying thank you to them."

Chief Operating Officer Steve Christian accepted a cheque on behalf of the Southport and Ormskirk Hospitals Charity for the funds raised at a Christmas coffee morning for members at the Liverpool Road club in Ainsdale.

Number of children homeschooled trebles in five years

THE number of secondary school children being homeschooled in Lancashire has nearly trebled in five years, while the number of primary aged children taught at home has almost doubled.

Homeschooling college Wolsey Hall Oxford says that secondary schools are 'off-rolling' pupils while at primary age parents are making the choice to take their children out of school.

According to school regulator Oftsed, off-rolling is when a pupil is removed from a school without a formal, permanent exclusion or when a parent is encourgaed to remove their child from school, when the removal is primarily in the interests of the school rather than in the best interests of the pupil

In Lancashire the number of secondary school children being homeschooled has risen from 395 in 2013 to 1,146 in 2018. While the primary aged figures have increased from 223 to 434 during the same period.

The increase came to light following a Freedon of Information request sent to all councils across the UK by Wolsey Hall Oxford, which found that in 2018 there were a total of 35,417 secondary aged and 22,800 primary age chidren schooled at home, up from 12,702 and 9,200 in 2013.

Lee Wilcock, principal at Wolsey Hall Oxford said: "Many parents cite several factors behind their decision but they can include mainstream school class sizes or lack of spaces at their preferred school, For others it can be seen as a lifeline allowing their child the opportunity to learn in a way that suits them."

Edwina Grant, Lancashire Couny Council's executive director for education and children's services, said: "We have a statutory duty to ensure that all children and young people are receiving a suitable full-time education, and schools are required to notify us if a child has been removed for home education.

"There has been a significant increase in the number of parents choosing to educate their child at home since 2015. Many parents make this decision on an informed basis. However, there are some instances when the education of a child at home might not be the most appropriate decision for the child or young person involved. We have reviewed and strengthened our processes in order to ensure that the correct support is in place for these children and young people.

"Our processes are now more robust and measures are available to help parents to make informed decisions so that their child receives a good education.

"Legally, parents have the right to educate their child at home if they choose to. Although we respect this right, we've put processes in place to make sure that any vulnerable children or young people are protected."

Mike Maguire

NHS boss who started out as clerk set to retire

Report by Kenny Parker

THE head of NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG), who worked his way up from a clerk, is to retire in April.

Mike Maguire was a clerk in medical records at Southport General Infirmary when he started working for the NHS in the 1980s as a 17-year-old.

Working his way up in the organisation Mike, now 55, held some "significant roles across the North West" before becoming chief officer at West Lancs CCG in 2013, a role which saw him oversee the operation of the organisation at a strategic level.

While in the role, he has brought about the Well Skelmersdale programme, designed to celebrate and enhance the skills and opportunities of people in the area, and also launched the Grow Your Own initiative, which tackles the workforce issues the NHS is facing and championing the use of emerging technology which lead to the CCG winning two national digital awards.

Mike will cease to hold his chief officer responsibilities from January 1 and will instead work on dedicated projects for the CCG during his notice period, officially leaving the CCG on April 6.

The CCG boss, who plans to travel Europe on his retirement, said: "I always wanted to make a difference to people's lives, so the NHS was the perfect fit for me. Over my working years, I have seen the NHS evolve again and again, and I have no doubt it will continue to do so.

"Despite the challenges, the NHS holds huge promise and with a greater emphasis on self-care, prevention and an increased use of technology, we can transform the system to allow extra support for our changing needs and aging population."

About his departure, he added: "There is no place quite like West Lancashire! It's been a pleasure to serve an area I am so fond of. While in this role, I have been fortunate enough to work with some exceptionally talented individuals and a hard-working team at the CCG.

"I would like to thank everyone who has played a part in my long NHS career and wish them all the best for the future."

With Mike's imminent departure, the CCG is moving to a different organisational model by welcoming an interim Shared Accountable Officer, Dr Amanda Doyle.

Amanda is currently chief clinical officer at NHS Blackpool and Fylde and Wyre CCGs, and the Integrated Care System (ICS) lead for Lancashire and South Cumbria.

Dr John Caine, local GP and chair of NHS West Lancashire CCG, said: "Mike will be sorely missed by our team. My cunning meal plan that avoided Doggy World War 3!

WELL, here I am writing this on Boxing Day morning having survived the Big Day itself remarkably well considering that only a couple of weeks ago it was beginning to look like Christmas sans lights, cooker or hot water.

As it turned out the only modern 'convenience' I lacked was TV - and in the event it turned out that radio was a very good substitute - and not nearly so 'tying.'

Indeed, the only major problem I faced was my dogs, Tina and Greedy Nan (Cinders).

In the past they have had their Christmas meals with me in dining room splendour.

The difficulty surfaced with how to give them their Christmas dinner and tea without starting Doggy World War Three!

This problem arose because at the moment I am lacking cupboard and working surfaces in the kitchen - and my dining room still needs sorting and getting the chairs off the dining table.

So meals are still being taken in my living room and this has posed a difficulty which didn't exist before.

For reasons of dog psychology which I do not claim to understand, the two of them are quite happy to be fed in the same room (Cinders previously took hers in the hallway) - but having both licked their respective bowls clean they start facing up to each other and on the evening before Christmas Eve this led to a fully fledged fight - up with which I will not put.

A little thought though solved the matter.

Cinders was tempted by a few treats to stay in the hall while I had my dinner (with Tina patiently watching) and then I put their share of Festive goodies on a plate each - Tina in the front room with me, Cinders still happily installed in the hallway.

With dinner good and properly over, Cindy was allowed back into the family - and all was well!

That was until I awoke this morning meaning to face opening a letter from HMRC - which rarely means good news.

This letter had arrived, I thought, on Christmas Eve and I had put off opening it of until after Christmas Day, not wishing to put a dampener on proceedings.

I know where I thought I'd put it - and these days there are far fewer places where it could be hiding than pre clear-out - and there it wasn't.

I have looked literally everywhere else that I could reasonably have put it, with no result apart from a rising panic.

Then, suddenly, I accepted the possibility that this postal delivery had in fact been but a nightmare - that no such letter had arrived.

And the more I think about it the more the idea has taken root.

Because surely even I would have been forced, by curiosity if nothing else, to have had a quick look to see what awfulness awaited me now had I really have had the envelope in my hand.

As I said, in the newly cleaned out house there are only a certain number of surfaces where I could possibly have put it.

So while I am still looking for this ethereal letter, I also managed to put it to the back of my mind and determined not to let it ruin our Boxing Day.

Shakespeare I think it was, who said: "sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof " - which I take roughly to mean face whatever may come when it comes - and don't let it spoil a jolly good Boxing Day dinner (or it should be if the 'easy cut' turkey joint thaws out quickly enough.)

So the only cloud I am allowing on my immediate horizon is the one I can see through the window, which threatens periods of rain which will put a damper (literally) on my planned dog walk later this morning.

Anyway, I want to wish you all a very Happy New Year - for yourself, your families and, of course, your pets too!

Brass and percussion players returning due to popular demand

LOCAL musicians Intrada Brass Ensemble will return to the Auditorium of Parbold Village Hall on Saturday, January 18 for an evening of Music through the Ages.

Tickets for Parbold Douglas Music's concert are available from www.parbolddouglasmusic.org/ telephone 01257 498452 (answerphone).

Intrada Brass Ensemble is based in Preston and made up of 11 brass and percussion players. The variety of instruments they play allows them to perform a very wide range of music, from lighter pieces to classical works.

A considerable amount of their repertoire is arranged by members of the ensemble, which means that they always bring something new to their concerts alongside popular favourites.

Two years ago Intrada gave such a successful performance in Parbold that they have been invited back for a second appearance.

This time, they will play music showcasing the development of music for brass instruments since its earliest days.

The audience will be treated to some of the very first music written for brass instruments, from the 1500s, through to today.

Intrada will perform works by composers such as Tielman Susato and Giovanni Gabrieli, who wrote music to suit the earliest brass instruments in the sixteenth century.

Over time, as brass instruments became more sophisticated, composers who followed in their footsteps were able to write in a more virtuosic style. The audience will be able to hear the contrast in works by composers including Handel and Dvorak.

Tickets are £16 for adults and £5 for young persons and students. To book tickets visit www.parbolddouglasmusic.org /email tickets@parbolddouglasmusic.org / telephone 01257 498452 (answerphone).

For further information contact: michael.bonsall@btinternet.com / 01257 463646.

Meanwhile Parbold Picture House is hosting Horus Egyptology Society, Wigan, for a special event on Saturday, January 11, from 1pm to 6pm, (including tea) for a screening of the newly digitally restored version of Pharaoh (175 min.).

Intrada Brass Ensemble

This is unique presentation in the UK of the film has been negotiated by Dr. Michael Bonsall of Parbold Picture House and Horus with the Polish film company Kadr.

The film is regarded as one of the greatest artistic and commercial achievements of Polish cinema and was nominated for the Foreign Language Oscar.

It remains in the top ten most popular Polish films.

Adapted from the novel by Boleslaw Prus, it tells of the conflict between a youthful Pharaoh, Rameses XII, and the older high priest who holds the reins of power.

It is a timeless tale of power, who can grasp it, hold on to it and manipulate the people's moods and minds.

The film is praised by Egyptologists for the accuracy of its depiction of rites, customs, dress and ornamentation and the political dynamic that led to this ruler being the last true Pharaoh.

Prof. Joann Fletcher, York University and the BBC author/presenter of BBC 4 documentaries on Ancient Egypt, will give a talk about issues associated with the film.

Latest film showings at Bijou Cinema are released

IF you love movies you will be pleased at what is on offer week after week at The Bijou Cinema in Post Office Avenue, Southport. This community led project shows films you rarely have a chance to see on a big screen. The venue boasts of 'top of the range' projector and sound systems as well as very comfy seats. There's even a bar where you can get a drink or two at very reasonable prices....And that's not all! With a new Lounge and Media room ready for opening early 2020 this is one venue that promises to deliver surprises all year round. Watch this space for more details very soon.

The films this week are:

Matilda (1996). The Roald Dahl story of a wonderful girl and the worst parents in the world came to the screen courtesy of Danny de Vito. It is funny and has a great message at its heart. (PG). It can be seen on Thursday, January 2 at 2.30pm.

Don't Look Now (1973). Nicolas Roeg's masterpiece starred Julie Christie and Donald Sutherland in a Venice landscape. Visually haunting this is a film to be experienced on a big screen. (PG). This film will be shown on Thursday, January 2 at 7.30 pm.

Fantastic Mr Fox (2009) This film has terrific animation by Pixar and this is another chance to enjoy another Roald Dahl's tale. It is a tale of friendships and priorities brilliantly executed (PG). The film will be shown on Friday, January 3 at 2.30pm.

Amelie (2001). This absolutely wonderful movie is a delight as much for its message as it is for its visuals. Audrey Tautou is Amelie and France has never looked so... French! (15). The film can be seen on Friday, January 3 at 7.30pm.

Roman Holiday(1953). This is William Wyler's breakthrough movie for Audrey Hepburn. This delightful tale of princess and journalist also stars Gregory Peck and both dazzle in this classic gem. (U) The film will be shown on Saturday, January 4 at 2.30pm.

A Star Is Born (2018) Every 20 years or so this film gets a remake proving that nothing changes where fame is concerned. This latest version was a big hit and here's your chance to see it again on the big screen (15). It will be shown on Saturday, January 4 at 7.30pm.

Rear Window (1954) Hitchcock's masterpiece with Grace Kelly and James Stewart still packs the suspense to a high degree in this tale of voyeurism going wrong. Not to be missed (PG). Audiences can catch this film on Sunday, January 5 at 2.30pm.

Shanghai Express (1932) Joseph Von Sternberg discovered Marlene Dietrich and he directs her in this dangerous tale. A stylish movie to be discovered. (PG). This film can be seen on Tuesday, January 7 at 2.30pm.

All tickets for films are £5. Discounts available (ask at the cinema) all year long.

PRAYERS

Saint Jude's Novena

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever.

Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us, St. Jude worker of miracles pray for us. St. Jude, helper of the hopeless pray for us.

Say this prayer 9 times a day. By the 8th day your prayers may be answered. Say it for 9 days and it has never been known to fail.

Publication must be promised. Thank you St. Jude

Instructions:
Light your candle and declare out loud what miracle you need right now. Repeat this prayer 9 times for 9 days. Do this at the same time each day, never skip a day. If you do, you need to start over again. On the 9th day give thanks, and say "So be it." Give it up to Saint Jude and let go of any worry. You will see results in 72 hours. Never use this prayer to manipulate or control anyone. Use it only with the best intentions.

This is the most important part of the entire process YOU MUST pass this miracle prayer onto others. Some people publish it in the paper, others e-mail it to their friends, and others post it in a public building.

BIRTHDAY MEMORIAMS

RIGBY JAMIE 'OUR JAY'

31st December 2019
Our beautiful Son and Brother would have been 35 years old today

No gifts to give,
no cards to send,
just hearts full of love
that will never end.
You left us precious memories that made us laugh and cry,
The love you planted
in our hearts,
no millionaire could buy.
If tears could build a stairway, and memories a lane, we'd walk right up to Heaven and bring you
home again,
and spend this special day with you,
the way we always used to do.
'Birthday wishes to our beautiful boy'
We will always remember your big blue eyes and your cheeky smile.
See you in Heaven
Son.
Love always,
Mum & Dad,
Danielle & Liam,
Stuart & family.
'Re-united with little mate Taz'.

BIRTHDAY MEMORIAMS

LEA MARION

31st December 1930

If roses grow in Heaven Lord
Please pick a bunch
for us
Place them in my (Grand)Mother's arms and tell her they are from us.
Tell her we love her and miss her and when she turns to smile place a kiss upon her cheek and hold her for awhile because remembering her is easy we do it every day but there is an ache within our hearts that will never go away.
With love from,
Jackie, Janice, Barry,
Kayleigh and Wayne

FORGIVE me if I'm about to break all sorts of rules about product placement – but I'm fairly certain you'll know what I'm on about if I ask 'what beanz meanz.'

There are plenty of other fine purveyors of the flatulence-inducing dinnertime treat, of course, and you can pick up everything from squeezy bottles of sweet chilli ketchup to tins of creamy chicken soup bearing this culinary giant's corporate logo down at your nearest supermarket - but chances are that if I challenge you to come up with a maker of baked beans, you'll struggle to think of any other name.

In exactly the same way that proper small cars, for far longer than anyone cares to remember, means Fiat.

So I was a tad perplexed to learn the other day that, as part of a mega-merger between PSA (the owners of Peugeot, Citroen and Vauxhall) and Fiat-Chrysler (no prizes for guessing what they own) being signed off that the person heading up the Italian side openly suggested that it's Peugeot that should take the lead on making combined conglomerate's smaller offerings.

Admittedly, what the Gallic side gets in return – Jeep's mudplugging know-how for future off-roaders – makes complete sense, but to me it still seems like an extraordinary concession from the carmaker that does it better than anybody else. I'm not just on about the 500, which despite dating back to 2007 still manages to sell in decent numbers while maintaining a frisson of fun, or its addictively entertaining Abarth counterparts.

Both the Panda and 500 uphold a Fiat tradition of making entertaining cars on the smaller side

I'm on about underrated city cars that prove to be far more engaging outside of their natural habitats than any small car ought to be. Cars like the old Panda 100HP and the Cinquecento Sporting. We could go back even further – a year or two ago I drove an Autobianchi Giardiniera, which is essentially a 1960s Fiat 500 turned into an improbably small estate car, and loved every moment. It struggled to get above 45mph, but it was agile, brilliantly packaged and equipped with an endlessly eager two-cylinder engine.

I've written before about how emissions legislation is – ironically – making it less cost-effective to make small cars these days, and it doesn't make sense for Peugeot, Citroen, Vauxhall and Fiat to all compete with each other when they're under the same roof, but having Fiat give up what it does best is a step too far. Peugeot make some cracking small cars, of course, but it says a lot that its most petite offering, the 107, is actually a rebadged Toyota Aygo.

Fingers crossed that someone at the helm of this new car-making giant borrows a Panda for a couple of hours and sees sense. Small Fiats are a bit like beans on toast – you wouldn't want to have them all the time, but it'd be a strangely sad world without them at all.

Linnets come back from a goal down to claim vital win

Burscough 2
Hanley Town 1

BURSCOUGH came from behind to earn a vital three points despite an ugly brawl involving both sets of players and their benches, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

The pressure was on the Linnets with bottom club Litherland Remyca breathing down their necks.

After coming under some early pressure and conceding a goal, to their credit they fought back to pick up all three points, which proved vital it retains their three point cushion above Remyca.

However the game simmered from the off and it was almost inevitable that a clash would occur and when it did deep into the second-half with Burscough then 2-1 up it resulted in a sending off for both teams after a head butt by a Hanley player set off a chain reaction from both sets of players and coaching benches.

On 17 minutes a long throw was hoisted into the Linnets area, Jon Higham got up above everyone and directed a header into the Burscough net, at that point it was justice on balance of play.

Just before the interval Burscough levelled when the ball was sent into the goalmouth by Conor Christiansen, where George Lomax equalised with an excellent finish.

Hanley started the second-half well but now Burscough were ready for them and although they had possession they created few valid opportunities.

On 64 minutes Burscough broke away down the right side, Salkeld was slipped in and rounded Hanley goalkeeper Aaron Woolrich, then from an acute angle slipped a wonderful finish past the keeper low into the corner of the net.

Burscough went close twice soon after the goal, but then on about 75 minutes the incident occurred that everyone was left talking about rather than the football action.

In front of the dug-outs Thorpe threw in a clumsy challenge and words were exchanged between him and Burscough's Conor Ready.

Thorpe appeared to headbutt Ready who took Thorpe in a head lock and resulted in a brawl between all the players.

When it had all calmed down, Thorpe and Ready were both dismissed as was Dane Jackson from the Hanley bench and Paul Bowes from the Burscough bench.

The game settled down afterwards and even at the end both teams were off to the dressing room peacefully.

In the latter stages both teams had opportunities rather than clear cut chances but by the end the Linnets comeback was complete.

Burscough hadn't just won, they had deserved to come back from behind. Despite the dreadful first-half show at Skelmersdale they are playing a lot better than they were a couple of months ago and have every chance of avoiding the bottom relegation place in the North West Counties Premier Division.

Burscough prepare for Ashton Athletic clash

BURSCOUGH and Skelmersdale United return to action this Saturday.

Skelmersdale entertain Padiham at their new home ground, while Burscough have a local derby at Ashton Athletic.

The Padiham game is an important game for Skem as the East Lancashire team are only a place and two points ahead of them in the table, so it is vital for their hopes of pulling away from relegation danger that they win.

They have a good chance too, Padiham have recently had a change of management, seeing former Skem hero Adam Morning standing down from his position as co-manager leaving Michael Morrison in sole charge.

It won't be easy for Burscough as Ashton Athletic have promotion hopes, sitting seventh in the table and they won 5-0 at Burscough in October.

Skelmersdale have certainly drawn the short straw next midweek, facing their longest away trip of the season on Monday, January 6 at Whitchurch Alport for a re-arranged fixture.

Derby delight for Skem with victory in first match at new stadium

IT was the perfect homecoming for Skelmersdale United on Boxing Day as they claimed derby delight with a 4-0 win over Burscough at JMO Sports Park, writes Simon Driscoll.

The first chance of the afternoon saw George Lomax try his luck in the opening minute from distance with Ben Barnes claiming comfortably. United responded with a great chance, Tom Croughan picking out Emini Adegbenro who slotted across goal to find the run of Alex Griffiths but saw the ball beat both him and the far post.

Linnets went close with a Conor Christiansen cross flicking off Nathan Martland before being cleared by the United defence and a quick counter soon saw a long pass from Daniel Murphy find Croughan on the run who crossed low, only to see a defensive flick on with no United attacker in space.

The first save of the afternoon for Jones was a huge one as Griffith's lay-off from a free-kick saw Richard Brodie fire at goal with Jones tipping the ball away but he was simply a spectator minutes later as clever play from Adegbenro saw him cut inside and drive a low shot achingly past the post.

United opened the scoring fortuitously on 22 minutes as a through pass from Griffiths looked to pick out Croughan who though beaten to the ball by Jones collected from a fumble and tapped into the empty net for 1-0 to seal a place in history as the first to score at the new stadium.

Croughan turned provider just two minutes later as his run and cross took a deflection off a Linnets defender to fall perfectly for Griffiths to run onto and slot past Jones for a 2-0 lead.

Burscough looked to respond rapidly and with Nathan Martland finding Christiansen in space, he forced a strong diving save from Barnes from the edge of the area. Another effort this time from distance saw Conor Ready force Barnes to tip past the post.

The new stand at the JMO

United were in control on 39 minutes as a clever wing run from Croughan saw him loop a cross which took a slight touch off Adegbenro and flew into the net past Jones for a 3-0 advantage.

The contest looked to be sealed before half-time as United opened up a dream 4-0 lead with just 42 minutes on the clock and alike the opening goal, it came via some luck as a poor clearance from ex-United midfielder Adam Weston fell kindly for Jack Grimshaw who curled the ball past Jones into the far corner.

The second half saw the rain intensify and the game became tighter on the pitch with fewer chances, Christiansen and Martland both drawing saves from ranged efforts for the visitors before Croughan evaded several challenges only to get away a tame shot which Jones claimed comfortably.

Burscough's best chance to cut the gap came as a low cross beat Barnes and needed just a touch at the far post but strong defence coupled with a block as the ball fell to Martland kept United's sheet clean.

The Linnets went down to ten men as having used all three substitutes, Adam Dixon had to go off injured after falling awkwardly in an aerial challenge for the ball with Adegbenro.

Clever play from the visitors saw ex-United striker Sean Yeldrem pick out fellow substitute James Salkeld whose strong effort stung the palms of Barnes but it proved to be the final chance as with the final whistle minutes later, United celebrated a perfect start in their new home and in front of a record crowd for the season.
